Student-Right-to-Know Federal Graduation and Retention Rate Disclosure Published - July 1, 2024

Pursuant to the federal Student Right-to-Know Act, on an annual basis, the Institute determines and makes available an overall graduation rate of certificate or degree-seeking, first-time, full-time undergraduate students. In addition, the Institute also provides the Student-Right-to-Know graduation rate disaggregated by various sub-categories, as determined and defined by the U.S. Department of Education.

The Student Right-to-Know graduation rate is based on a “cohort study,” meaning that a group or “cohort” of students is identified and then monitored over a period of time. The current rates, set out below, are based on the group of students who enrolled in the Institute for the first-time, as full-time students, between September 1, 2020 and August 31, 2021. The rate represents the number of those students who earned their degree or certificate within 150% of the program length in attempted credits as of August 31, 2023. The rate does not include students who did not attend more than 15 days after starting a program if their program was a year or less and students who did not attend more than 30 days after starting a program if their program was longer than a year, who left Institute to serve in the armed forces, who left Institute to serve an official church mission, or who left Institute to serve in the foreign service of the federal government. Students who died or were totally and permanently disabled also are excluded. The rate also does not include students who have attended Institute before enrolling in a program at our College.

It’s important to note that the Student Right-to-Know graduation rate is calculated at the Institute level. In other words, there is one rate for the entire College, not a rate for each specific program.
